

FAQ PERIODICALS SUBSCRIPTIONS

Which periodicals does Trans Tech Publications publish?	TTP publishes 14 periodicals. The journals are listed in the Flashcard, which can be found and downloaded at https://www.scientific.net/DocuCenter.
Do the periodicals have eISSN registered?	All of the periodicals have ISSN registered for print and online. Here is the list of ISSN: https://www.scientific.net/DocuCenter.
Is the resource indexed by discovery tools?	All the materials are indexed in the discovery tools listed in the second paragraph of this page, 'Where are we indexed.'
Which publication dates does the subscription period include?	Current year from January 1st to December 31st.
Is a Web Package available?	All 14 periodicals are in a Web Package.
How to get access to the back volumes	TTP has different access subscriptions available. Access to backfiles is either via subscription option 2 or 3. Option 2 comprises perpetual access to subscribed years and includes access to all volumes previously published. Access to this is maintained as long as the subscription in this option is maintained. If this option is canceled or changed to option 1, access is only to subscribed years (perpetual). In Option 3, perpetual access is purchased (= one-time-archival acquisition).
What are the conditions to obtain a trial period?	To subscribe for the 1-3 month trial access, Libraries are required to provide their URL, full address, contact name, e-mail, IP addresses.
Do subscribers sign a license agreement?	Yes, multiple user organisations sign a license agreement specifying the type of use (which volumes/years/titles, as well as specifications such as IP ranges. The license agreement also addresses the user terms & conditions.
How can one get acquainted with the Terms and Conditions?	The Terms and Conditions can be found here.
Does TTP provide licensees with perpetual access rights to all content paid for during the term of the subscription?	Licensees receive the right of perpetual access via www.scientific.net. For specific requirements and archival needs, please write to subscriptions@scientific.net.

Does TTP use any content preservation services?	All TTP content is archived with Portico and CLOCKSS .
Does TTP send newsletters for subscribers to keep them up-to-date with new content, features, and/or services?	The newsletters about newly published volumes are sent out monthly to those customers having IP access to Scientific.net.
Is there an option to see the usage statistics and get reports?	The usage statistics will be made available by TTP. Please write to subscriptions@scientific.net .
Are the statistics COUNTER Compliant?	We provide COUNTER Compliant usage reports. JR1, JR2, and JR5.
Does TTP provide MARC records?	We provide MARC Records in MARC21 format, XML Files, ONIX 2.1, ONIX 3.0, ToC, Cover, JATS, KBART1&2.
We allow the following authentication method:	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) IP Address authentication (IPv4) 2) SSO Authentication (now supported next federations: eduGAIN, OpenAthens, UK Access Management, InCommon, SWAMID, SWITCHaai, and DFN-AAI). SAML protocols: OpenAthens, Shibboleth 3) Authentication by Scientific.NET user login and password 4) Google Scholar CASA to provide authentication enhancement that improves the authentication for off-campus users of Google Scholar.
Does TTP permit customers to get off-campus access, remote access, and remote access from outpost centers or satellite campuses?	Remote access and off-campus access are allowed for customers under TTP Terms and Conditions .
Is the resource available in a mobile version?	Scientific.Net website is built in responsive design. It can be accessed via mobile devices.
Does TTP use DRM (Digital Rights Management)?	All our data is DRM free.
Are there any restrictions for simultaneous access?	The License agreement with Trans Tech Publications allows simultaneous access.
Is there any content that becomes available in open access on the website after an embargo period?	In principle, access to the TTP publications requires a subscription on a permanent basis. When requested, the author can publish his paper under an Open Access license. TTP also allows their authors to deposit the Paper (postprint or preprint) in non-open access institutional repository with a link to Publisher's website only.
Is the resource included in the link resolver knowledgebase?	The resource is included in ProQuest Ex Libris SFX, EBSCO full-textfinder, WorldCat OCLC, BrowZine/LibKey (Tirion) (ALMA, 360Core)

Are users allowed to share small amounts of content with third parties?	Users are allowed to share small amounts of the content according to TTP Terms and Conditions.
Are the lecturers who have access to the resource allowed to send copies of articles to the students enrolled in MOOC (Massive Open Online Courses)?	Such cases are considered individually. The lecturers should address their requests for issuing permission to authors@scientific.net.
Are authors allowed to self-archive in their institution's limited-access repositories, open-access repositories, and public servers such as PubMed Central, RePEc, or SSRN?	For articles not published under a CC license, TTP also allows their authors to deposit the Paper (postprint or preprint) in non-open access institutional repository with a link to Publisher's website only.
READ & PUBLISH Agreements and Consortia Agreements	TTP has introduced the possibility of READ & PUBLISH agreements allowing for access to all its journal content in combination with OA for authors from the respective institute/organisation/university. In addition, TTP has also concluded several consortia agreements. Please contact subscriptions@scientific.net for more information.
ALL open questions/requests	Please contact subscriptions@scientific.net for more information.